* Non-Member Nonprofit/Academia rates apply to participants from nonprofit organisations, academic/educational institutions and healthcare institutions who are not current EACR members.

 Patient advocates: We have a limited number of discounted registrations for patient advocates. You must be employed by or volunteer for a registered non-profit patient advocacy organisation. To apply, contact eacr@newway-management.com with a headed letter from the organisation you represent, indicating how your attendance at the Congress will further its charitable aims for the benefit of patients.

Confirmation of Registration

Immediately after finalising and paying for your registration, an email acknowledgement and confirmation will be sent to the email address entered in the registered profile. If you do not receive your registration confirmation, check your Junk email folder, and contact the Registration Team at eacr@newway-management.com.

Shortly before the event, you will receive an email including updated information on the programme as well as your individual barcode letter. This email will allow you to access the Congress venue and sessions, exhibition, and poster halls.

Payment Methods

Registration fees must be paid by debit or with credit card at the time of registration. Bank transfers are not accepted. We accept VISA and MasterCard®, and your card will be charged upon completion of registration.

Payment Deadlines and Conditions

You must follow the cancellation process if you decide to withdraw by contacting eacr@newway-management.com.

Paying the Correct Rates

You are expected to pay the relevant registration rate. If an incorrect registration rate is paid in error, we will require the correct rate to be paid in order to finalise the registration.

We strongly advise all participants to obtain appropriate insurance to cover travel, accommodation and any other costs that may be incurred because of cancellation or postponement of the event.

Please note that failure to obtain a visa does not constitute grounds for a refund of registration fees.

Personal data

We collect your personal details from you when you create an account on the congress portal in order to submit an abstract or register for an EACR Congress.

We share your data with our contractor 360 degree, who operate the congress portal, and our contracted conference organiser New Way Management.

We use your contact details to send you information relating to the congress you register or submit an abstract for.

We will not share your details with congress sponsors or exhibitors. However, if you consent to have your badge scanned at the event, then your details (name, address and email address) will be shared with that organisation who may contact you after the event. If you do not wish for your details to be shared, then do not allow your badge to be scanned.

We will contact you about future EACR congresses and all communications will contain the option to opt out.

How long we will retain your data

If you register and pay to attend a congress, we will retain your details indefinitely in a database of participants of that congress, unless you request to be removed. We will also contact you about future congresses. All communications will contain the option to opt out.

If you create an account for the congress portal to submit an abstract and/or register, we will retain your submitted data in the congress portal. If you do not log in to your account for three years, we will delete your account and all associated data from the congress portal.

Photography and Videos

All photographs and videos taken during the event may be used by the EACR on websites, in newsletters, and other promotional material. No individual portrait picture will be taken without your consent. Participants posing for pictures agree to give the EACR the right to use them. In addition, exhibitors and sponsors may also take photographs and videos of their stands which may include images of participants. You accept that these may be used by companies in their own promotional materials.

Code of conduct

The EACR Congress will bring together participants from across the world to share their research, learn, and discuss. We are committed to providing a safe and secure environment at the congress with an atmosphere of mutual tolerance and respect. Below are the expectations we have for all participants at the congress, including speakers, exhibitors and staff.

If the EACR believes that any participant's behaviour is detrimental to the safety, security or wellbeing of others, we may ask them to change their behaviour or in extreme circumstances we may require them to leave the venue.

Electronic devices

All devices should be switched to silent mode during scientific lectures to avoid disturbance for the speaker and other participants.

Personal and professional conduct

We expect all participants to communicate professionally and constructively, handling dissent and disagreement with courtesy, dignity, and an open mind, being respectful when providing feedback, and being open to alternate points of view.

On a personal as well as professional level we expect participants to treat each other with courtesy and respect. We do not allow intimidating, threatening or harassing behaviour of any kind from anyone.

Participants are not permitted to canvass other participants or to distribute flyers outside of the officially designated literature display area. Any promotional material found outside of the officially designated literature display area will be disposed of.

The only exception is that participants may leave their own contact information on their own poster display board.

Networking through the EACR 2027 app

Shortly before the Congress, all registered participants will receive access to the EACR 2027 app, where they can browse the programme and abstracts, and message other participants who have opted in.

The EACR 2027 app messaging facility is strictly for peer-to-peer networking and collaborative exchange. The networking feature is designed to allow all participants the opportunity to connect with fellow attendees in a personal and organic manner. Example scenarios may include:

- seeing a poster and wanting to know more
- attending a talk but didn't get your question answered
- connecting in passing during a parallel session and wanting to continue the conversation
- meeting between sessions and wanting to further the connection.

Please note that private messages exchanged within the app are not vetted or approved by the EACR.

Blanket messaging for commercial solicitation or business canvassing is strictly prohibited.

We ask all attendees to use the networking facility in the app responsibly. Inappropriate use or reported spamming will result in the immediate disabling of your app profile. Thank you for helping us maintain a professional environment.

Children

For safety and insurance reasons, under 18s are not permitted in the Congress venue at any time, except when travelling directly to or from the onsite childcare facility.

Safety and security

For security purposes, participants must always wear their congress badge when in the venue. Personal items should not be left unattended.

Letter of Invitation/Visa Letter

Don't let a visa be the reason you miss out. If you require a visa to attend the Congress, we strongly recommend that you apply as early as possible to allow sufficient processing time. Please note that failure to obtain a visa does not constitute grounds for a refund of registration fees.

Participants who have registered and paid can download a 'Letter of invitation' from the Congress registration portal. This is to assist you in obtaining travel funds, appropriate visas, and/or absence approvals. The same standard format of letter is provided to every participant who needs one and we cannot amend it, add extra information, or submit further documentation for visa applications. Please ensure you apply for the correct type of visa with enough time for it to be approved. We cannot provide advice on applying for a visa, and if you are unsure, we recommend seeking expert help in your home country.
